Fewer Desertions Reported.
Fewer desertions and a less number of sailors deserted from vessels in April than during any other month of this year, according to J. H. Barbour, United States Immigration Inspector at Portland, Ore., who is compiling data for forwarding to the department at Washington. The total were five men discharged from the American schooner Irene and four deserters from the German bark Barnbek. In March there were 22 deserters and four seamen were discharged from vessels in Portland harbor. There were 33 desertions in February and three tars were paid off. In January there were 32 desertions and three tars were discharged. One reason for the small number of desertions last month, it is believed, is because the heavy off-shore grain-shipping season was over, and not so many sailing vessels were in port as during the early part of the year. There were no Orientals among the deserters.

French Wireless to Girdle the Globe.
The French government has decided to establish at once a wireless chain connecting its colonial possessions. The line will connect Timbuctoo, J. Butli, Antananarivo, Pondicherry, Saigon, Noumea, Papeete, the Marquesas, and Martinique. In the order named. Most of the stations will have a range of 2000 or 3000 miles.
